ANNUAL REPORT

(1st June 2021 – 31st May 2022)

INTRODUCTION OF THE COLLEGE

C-Edge College, established in 2012, recognised under Sections 2(f) and 12(B) of the UGC Act is a premier co-ed institution, affiliated to Nagaland University. The College is recognised by the Government of Nagaland, Department of Higher and Technical Education. The College achieved another milestone during October 2017 when it received NAAC Accreditation with Grade B. The following year, the College also received Permanent Affiliation from Nagaland University.

C-Edge is an abbreviated form of Cutting-Edge. The term ‘Cutting-Edge’ visualises such outcomes not only in terms of an adequate arrival, but to be participants in the most advanced and exciting developments in a field. It also means to gain a leading edge, an advantage. The C-Edge College thus presents the Vision to build and engage in an educational environment which enables its students towards the formation of a ‘cutting-edge’ mind-set. We believe that the human mind must first ‘Aspire’ and reach the ‘cutting-edge’ frontier before we can actually set out to achieve any goal within the realm of excellence.

C-Edge College is ideally located at the outskirts of Dimapur and is well-connected to the city and other important places in the state. The college had a humble beginning with one single storied building and handful of students. Presently, the campus encompasses a three storied academic building, the Principal’s quarter, a basket-ball court and ample green lush space for future development. The college also has its extension campus 4.5 km away from the main campus, for vocational and skill development programs.

The College offers regular and professional undergraduate programmes which are:

- Bachelor of Arts (BA) - both Pass Course and Honours in English, History, Political Science, Sociology, Economics and Education.
- Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) – with specialisation in Marketing Management, Financial Management and Human Resource Management.

C-EDGE COLLEGE VISION

BEST PRACTICES OF C-EDGE COLLEGE

Best Practice - I

Title of the Practice

Perspective Class

Objectives of the Practice

From the time of its inception, it was envisaged to offer something different, a value added knowledge for our students, and one of the College "Best Practices". The objective is to equip the student to learn to do their own perspective studies and understanding.

This is a unique form of class lecture in an interactive format, designed by the College based on the following concepts:

1. The talks would not be based on the text book or syllabus per se, but it would generally be on the scope and concept of the subject matter, to provide a broader view by presenting ideas and materials from outside the scope of the text book or syllabus.
2. The topics are open and wide ranging.
3. The Talks shall be on any subject matter as a specific text book or the syllabus may not be able to cover all different perspectives due to the nature of limited academic time available.

The Context

Perspective Class in C-Edge College has been introduced since 2013-14, within a year from the start of the College itself. The idea is to look at the subject matter from a different perspective by presenting a broader picture of the subject matter which will give a deeper and better understanding of the subject to the students, and enables them to better master the same. It will also teach them the applicability of the subject and its impact in the real world.

The Perspective Class would teach students how to make a connection between the theory and the practical. Students who already have a good academic grade, the Perspective Class challenges the students to a higher level of understanding. For those who are struggling, it helps them to get a better grasp of the subject. For those who think that the subject has little or no relevance in life, the Perspective Class challenges them with a motivation to think otherwise.

Furthermore, Perspective class conducted by the faculty concern requires intensive research thus; it will guide the faculty members to use the topic as a base of reference for their future research papers. This clearly shows the benefits for both faculty and students.

The Practice

Ever since its inception, the team of faculty takes up the Perspective Class at least twice a semester bringing about more qualitative and productive sessions with the students related to the subjects. The presenter makes use of Power Point Presentation, Audio Visual, etc. to make the session more interactive and interesting and also inculcate E-learning.

In order to track the understanding or knowledge gained and response of the students, feedbacks are prepared and collected after every Perspective Classes.

Evidence of Success

The table below shows the evidence of success as responded in the form of feedback provided by the students after attending Perspective Classes:

Name of the Student	Class	Feedback
Kamso Yimchunger	BA V Semester	Perspective classes have helped me to see the world from a different point of view. Apart from bookish knowledge, perspective classes are very much enjoyable and needed. I like everything related to it.
Moainla	BA III Semester	I find perspective classes to be really interesting and useful. We learnt so much outside the syllabus. I enjoyed it as we get so much idea on the related subject.
Ayeka Aye	BBA V Semester	Perspective Classes are interesting because it can be helpful to learn only from the syllabus. The best part is that perspective classes broaden my mind-set. It helps me to think outside the box and become more curious than before.

Nyimang Mong S	BBA III Semester	Perspective classes are very educative and fun because I get to learn something new. It has also helped me to do more research on it and shared in the community event.
Tokingla	BA V Semester	According to me, perspective classes are useful and educative. It refreshes our mind and help to think critically too.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required

As preparation for a Perspective class requires research and materials such as references and books outside of the syllabus and in tune with current developments, sometimes the concerned faculty to face the constraints of inadequate resources.

Best Practice - II

Title of the Practice: Katharizo

Objectives of the Practice

- To take learning outside of the classroom, the objectives of the college has, since its inception focused on inculcating a strong culture of work ethics and cleanliness in all aspects of the environment, the body and the mind.
- The first step towards this is creating a sense of responsibility for the classrooms they learn in, for the washrooms they use and for the campus that belongs to them.
- Keeping this focus on cleanliness of the body, mind and environment as the foundation to healthy living, the college encourages its students to participate in keeping their classrooms, toilets and environment clean.
- To realise this vision, various activities have been taken up. One of the most important activities in this step is the regular social work every Saturday, where each House work on rotation basis to clean their classrooms, toilets and the campus premises.

The Context

A peaceful and progressive society is possible when its members are hard-working and possess the right attitudes. Believing and understanding that a clean mind in a clean body flourishes in a clean environment, the college has reasserted this belief that there is great benefit in developing good and healthy work ethics and cleanliness. The College has thus developed more rigorously the practices of social work and cleanliness under the banner of “Katharizo.”

“Katharizo” comes from a Greek Word, a verb, meaning to cleanse, purge, purify, and wash away. These action words have been applied to mould diligent and cleanliness conscious citizens who can learn these initiatives and take it with them and contribute such qualities to the communities they live in. Katharizo, thus, aims not only to encourage the growth of hard-working and responsible students, but also to create a community of students who will take these values back to their respective communities

Katharizo is an on-going and continuous process that is practiced by all the stakeholders of the College:

Students: House Wise Katharizo is conducted every Saturday by the students. Each House (four houses) on rotation basis takes turn to clean the campus as well as social work outside the college campus. All members present in the college on Fridays also clean up their own classrooms after the last class under the in-charge of Class Representative (CR).

Faculty & Staff: Every faculty and staff also conducts Katharizo once a month where they clean their office and surroundings.

Evidence of Success

The success in the conduct of Katharizo among the students, staff and faculty can be seen in cleaner, tidier classrooms, office, and college campus. It also inculcates aesthetic values in the mind of every member.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required

One issue in conducting Katharizo is non-cooperation from some members who fail to appreciate the essence and value of the concept and its application.

INFRASTRUCTURE DEVELOPMENT WITH PHOTOGRAPHS

Changing the way we use water will help and support the fight against climate change. Measures for water efficiency can have a direct effect on energy savings which can lead to the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions (GHGs). Thus, recognising its importance, the college has implemented a Rain Water Harvesting system in the campus, in collaboration with Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR), Medziphima.

An ecosystem where species coexist with other species to create a sustainable environment is significant to bring about ecological balance. In conformity with it, the College has implemented two Vermicomposting pits as a means to protect the environment and also provide organic fertilisers.

It was inaugurated on 5th February 2022 by the Canaan Hands together with Principal Dr. Chubatola Aier and Canaan Hands Commander Mr. Tangit Longkumer.

Principal's Note 2021 – 2022

Reflecting on the bygone year of 2021 still evokes many mixed emotions of gratitude as well as disquiet. In terms of riding over the Covid 19 Pandemic in the context of our specific community, it is truly overwhelming to experience miraculous protection of our God. We offer heartfelt thanksgiving for all the curricular and extra-curricular activities we have managed to maintain in the midst of so many restrictions. It says a lot to the commitment and understanding of the management, faculty, staff and students.

As we prepared for the Odd Semester End exams, we kept the exhortation to keep our hopes high that all students and teachers would be fully prepared for a high quality finish. We had reasons for as to how we may readjust to the offline mode after three online exams. Yet, it was our expectation to draw on the “Cutting Edge” mindset, and give the best shot whatever the mode. It was a relief to find that the exams have gone well and the results quite good. The Even Semester End Exams brought a mixed bag of both excellent results as well instances of room for improvement in some classes.

With the academic environment slowly getting back to the routine life of pre-pandemic days, we are happy to see the implementation of several activities such as the “Beyond Gravity 2021”, release of Prism 2021 and so on. The Sports Week was on schedule and we hope that the upcoming event can be continued as such. A huge congratulation to the convenor and members of the Organising Committee of NAAC sponsored National Seminar, and those involved in making the seminar a very successful event. We look forward to many more. field trips, study tours as well as internship stints are in place again. All other regular events are back on track and flowing smoothly such as conduct of the Commencement and the Freshers Week. There are many more slotted in our Academic Calendar. These anticipated mega events should put us in the right tone for a renewed spurt in our efforts for a full vibrant college life.

God Bless.
