FROM THE EDITORIAL TEAM

As we publish the 18th edition of Prism, we are reminded of the power of self-expression and the importance of challenging societal norms which often dictate our paths influencing our choices and aspirations. In this issue, we'll explore what it means to break free from the norms and pursue God's purpose for our lives.

In this edition, we feature inspiring stories of individuals who have defied convention and stayed true to themselves. We also explore the importance of cultivating a cutting-edge mindset, embracing ethical living, and practicing diligence in our pursuit of excellence.

We hope that the narration and reflections in this edition will inspire you to challenge the status quo, embrace your uniqueness, and strive for excellence in all that you do.

Happy Reading!

FROM PRESIDENT'S DESK

Er. Moa Aier
President

Prism – the colours of talent and potential under C-Edge is one of the most anticipated publications every year. The first few issues of Prism started as a bi-annual (twice a year) publication, but as more and more activities began in the College, the work load increased and thus we made it into an annual publication to create more space for other activities, but with higher quality of content and presentation. We accordingly encourage every student, faculty and staff to make the best use of it to showcase our talents and potential. And also to showcase our achievements and progress.

This year 2024, we have seen two major milestones in the development journey of the College. Partially commissioned during November 2023, the Inauguration of the 24KW Solar Power Plant during October 2024 which will provide uninterrupted power supply during class hours adding more confidence and comfort to our students, faculty and staff. This will also provide seamless power changeovers during important functions and occasions without the breaks for generator backup.

We have also introduced the Basic Computer Application (BCA) course after due approval from the Higher Technical Education, Government of Nagaland and the AICTE. This will provide value added course to our students in parallel to their degrees. We plan to further upgrade and expand the IT courses for imparting skill based education and benefit of our students at affordable costs.

As we march every year achieving higher goals in all respects, academic as well as others, we continue to challenge every student, faculty and staff to continue doing their best. Together, we can dream and build a better future.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year 2025!

PRINCIPAL'S NOTE

Dr. Chubatola Aier

Principal
C-Edge College

Each academic year is another dream achieved and I am so thankful to our Almighty God for His unfailing love and grace.

To all of us together committed to the noble task of spreading education, let us all continue to give our best through devotion and dedication to make this institution a place for true learning while adapting and engaging effectively with the New Education Policy 2020. There are many areas where we are still struggling to grasp in detail, with even radical areas awaiting final modalities. We look forward that our University will come out with timely notifications. The transition period is always a time of uncertainty, and here I acknowledge all our faculty, staff and students who have sailed through valiantly thus far.

As in the nature of all life, each session we come across different seasons of life. We have suffered loss and we console those who have experienced dire circumstances, and pray for strength to always rise up and move ahead fortified. We also celebrate the many achievements of our dear students. These are recorded in the various reports of the Prism and therefore not listed here. I would just highlight the exceptional achievements of Ms. Nyimang Mong (BBA) and Ms. Marsenla (BA) who made it to the NU Toppers list of 2024. Hats off to Mr Lachimbah BA V & Mr. Thejasikho Vakha BBA V, the Nagaland State Level Winners of 'The RBI90 Quiz 2024'.

Another achievement is inauguration of the 24 KW Solar Power Plant by Ms. Nayantara Sasikumar, IES (currently OSD, Department of Planning & Transformation, Govt of Nagaland) in October, and the Entrepreneurs Development Centre in August in collaboration with Educentre School of Business, Dimapur.

Most scheduled events such as the International Mother Language day, The Entrepreneur 2024, Public Speaking Championship, Fine Arts & Cultural Day, Literary Day, and Departmental Commemorative Days in our Academic Calendar have been concluded successfully. In this last month of December, we anticipate with excitement Parents- Guardian-Teachers Conference, Advent Christmas and Beyond Gravity!

We are fortunate to have conducted many academic and non-scholastic seminars, talks and workshops on our own initiative as well as from well-wishers. To cite some, Awareness Program on Financial Literacy for Homemakers in Naga United area; panel discussions on Socio-Economic Status of Nagaland and Way forward, Environmental issues; and not forgetting the Quality Assurance workshops and Special Lecture Series.

All these were made possible only through the selfless synergy of all participants, resource persons and donors. The names are too numerous, but we acknowledge each and every one whose presence and talents have enhanced the community of C-Edge College. May each precious seed we plant be abundantly blessed and grow into magnificent fruit bearing trees.

As Trailblazers, Pathfinders, Trendsetters and Forerunners, may we all shine as lodestars.

Wishing all a blessed Christmas and the very best of the coming New Year 2025.

LIBRARY

Reported by: Wawe-u Chirhah, Librarian

Libraries are the cornerstone of a vibrant society. As Sidney Sheldon eloquently puts it, “Libraries store the energy that fuels the imagination. They open up windows to the world and inspire us to explore and achieve, and contribute to improving our quality of life.”

In today’s AI driven world, libraries play a more critical role than ever, providing a sanctuary for human curiosity and creativity.

By balancing traditional and digital resources, libraries empower individuals to navigate the complexities of information age, develop critical thinking and cultivating life-long learning.

Our library has also been actively expanding its collection to provide the best possible resources for our users with a focus on diversity, relevance, and accessibility. Recently, it has introduced an award for the “Best library User”, recognizing and rewarding dedicated patrons. Additionally, the library has initiated a “Book Exchange Program”, encouraging book exchange, reuse, and recycling while promoting sustainability and affordability. Such initiative illuminates the path to personal growth, social progress, and collective prosperity, solidifying the library’s position as a dynamic hub for knowledge, innovation, and social interaction.

As Michael Embry beautifully encapsulates, ‘I don’t have to look for treasures. I discover them every time I visit a library’. This sentiment resonates deeply, reminding us that libraries are indeed treasuries of knowledge, wonder, and inspiration, awaiting discovery by all who enter the door.

We encourage all users to come find your hidden treasures- the ones that makes you infinitely richer in knowledge, wisdom, and imagination which cannot be stolen. For within our walls, the boundaries of possibility expand, and joys of discovery await.

My COLLEGE ODYSSEY

College life was a whirlwind of experiences, a tapestry woven with threads of friendship, academic challenges, and a dash of mischief. It was a time of growth, both personally and academically, filled with moments of joy, frustration, and a whole lot of laughter.

The friendly environment fostered by our teachers was a comforting balm amidst the academic rigors. They were more than just educators; they were mentors who guided and supported us through thick and thin. Their encouragement and belief in our abilities were instrumental in keeping us motivated.

One of the most enriching aspects of college experience was the diversity of friends. The privilege of interacting with people from different backgrounds, cultures and ethnicities. These interactions broadened my horizons, challenged my preconceptions, and made me appreciate the beauty of human diversity.

Exams !! of course, were a constant source of stress and anxiety. The pressure to perform well, coupled with fear and failure, could be overwhelming. But amidst the stress, there was always a sense of friendship among my peers. We would commiserate over difficult exams, share tips and tricks, and offer support to each other.

Despite the challenges and setbacks, we never gave up on my academic pursuits. There were moments when I felt overwhelmed and questioned my abilities. But with the grace of God and the support of our teachers, I persevered. The sense of accomplishment I felt when I finally graduated was indescribable.

Looking back, I cherish the memories I made during my college days. The friendships I formed, the lessons I learned, and the experiences I had will stay with me for a lifetime. I am grateful for the person I have become as a result of my time there.

May God Bless C-Edge College

MIND-SET TRANSFORMATION, PIONEERING SPIRIT, AND GOOD LIVING.

Weaving Words

The One Day Faculty & Staff Development Programme (FSDP) 2024, themed “Mind-set Transformation, Pioneering Spirit, and Good Living,” was held on 28th March 2024, sponsored by Kiremwati Chair and organized by the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC). This event brought together esteemed faculty and staff to explore the significance of mindset transformation, pioneering spirit, and good living in achieving excellence in personal and professional life with a collegial discussion on “Canaan Farmers Spirit: Cutting- Edge Mindset, Ethical Living, Diligence”.

The discussion commenced with a thought-provoking presentation by Mr. Lungtanpou on the Canaan Farmers Spirit. He emphasized the importance of perseverance, innovation, stewardship, and responsibility towards the environment. Mr. Lungtanpou highlighted how this timeless approach can guide modern practices, fostering sustainability, community engagement, and a deep connection with nature. He encouraged participants to adopt the Canaan Farmers Spirit in their personal and professional lives. As educators we can incorporate the Canaan Farmers Spirit, its principles into teaching practices and foster a holistic approach to education. Mr. Lungtanpou concluded stating that by applying the Canaan Farmers Spirit in our teaching, we can create learning environment that promote sustainability, community, resilience, appreciation and harmony with nature, helping students develop the knowledge, skills and values they need to strive in an interconnected world.

Ms. Seema Debnath, shared her insights on cultivating a cutting-edge mindset. She emphasized that this mindset is essential for individuals and organizations seeking to drive innovation, excellence, and growth.

“A cutting-edge mindset is not just about embracing new technologies or trends,” Ms. Debnath explained. “It’s about adopting a way of thinking that enables us to navigate uncertainty, challenge assumptions, and create new opportunities.”

Ms. Debnath outlined the three stages of mindset development:

1. Stage 1: Recognizing Possibilities for Others: At this stage, individuals acknowledge the potential for innovation and excellence in others, but may not see it in themselves.
2. Stage 2: Exploring Possibilities for Oneself: Here, individuals begin to explore new ideas, challenge their own assumptions, and consider alternative perspectives.
3. Stage 3: Embracing Inevitability and Taking Action: In this final stage, individuals commit to their vision, take bold action, and continuously adapt to changing circumstances.

Ms. Debnath shared strategies for cultivating a cutting-edge mindset, including:

1. Embracing Curiosity: Encourage a culture of inquiry, ask open-ended questions, and seek diverse perspectives.
2. Challenging Assumptions: Regularly question established norms, processes, and beliefs to identify areas for improvement.

3. Fostering Collaboration: Encourage cross-functional teams, facilitate open communication, and empower individuals to take ownership.
4. Practicing Adaptability: Develop a growth mindset, stay agile, and be willing to pivot in response to changing circumstances.

“By embracing this mindset, we can unlock new opportunities, drive innovation, and achieve excellence in an ever-changing world.”

Ms. Wawe-u, took the stage and shared on the importance of ethical living. She emphasized that ethical living is not just a personal choice, but a responsibility that has far-reaching consequences for individuals, communities, and society as a whole.

“Ethical living is about making choices that align with our values and principles,” Ms. Wawe-u explained. “It’s about recognizing the impact of our actions on others and the environment, and taking responsibility for our decisions.” She highlighted the importance of academic integrity, respect, and professional boundaries in an educational institution, and emphasised the need for faculty and staff to uphold the values of education and contribute to a positive and ethical learning environment.

Ms. Wawe-u outlined the key principles of ethical living, including:

1. Respect for Human Dignity: Recognizing the inherent worth and dignity of every individual, regardless of their background, culture, or circumstances.
2. Compassion and Empathy: Showing kindness, concern, and understanding towards others, particularly those who are vulnerable or marginalized.
3. Responsibility and Accountability: Taking ownership of our actions and decisions, and being accountable for their consequences.
4. Fairness and Justice: Promoting equality, fairness, and justice in all aspects of life, and challenging systems and structures that perpetuate inequality.

Ms. Wawe-u concluded her presentation by emphasizing the importance of cultivating ethical living in our daily lives. “By embracing ethical living, we can create a more compassionate, just, and responsible society, where every individual can thrive and reach their full potential.”

Finally, Ms. Duvolu Rhakho, stressed on the importance of cultivating diligence. She emphasized that diligence is not just a trait, but a skill that can be developed and strengthened over time.

“Diligence is about being steadfast in our efforts, persistent in the face of obstacles, and committed to our goals,” Ms. Rhakho explained. “It’s about taking ownership of our work, being accountable for our actions, and continuously striving for improvement.”

Ms. Rhakho outlined the key characteristics of diligence, including:

1. Perseverance: The ability to persist in the face of challenges, setbacks, and failures.
2. Responsibility: The willingness to take ownership of our work, actions, and decisions.
3. Accountability: The ability to hold ourselves accountable for our actions, and to be transparent about our mistakes.

4. Continuous Improvement: The commitment to continuously learn, grow, and improve.

Ms. Rhakho shared strategies for cultivating diligence, including:

1. Setting Clear Goals: Establishing specific, measurable, and achievable goals that align with our values and priorities.
2. Creating a Schedule: Developing a schedule that allows for focused work, regular breaks, and time for self-care.
3. Eliminating Distractions: Identifying and eliminating distractions that can derail our progress.
4. Seeking Feedback: Seeking feedback from others, and being open to constructive criticism.

Ms. Rhakho concluded her presentation by emphasizing the importance of cultivating diligence in our daily lives. “By developing diligence, we can achieve our goals, build strong relationships, and create a sense of purpose and fulfillment in our lives.”

The programme concluded with a call to action by Mr. Imsuakum Longkumer, encouraging participants to integrate mindset transformation, pioneering spirit, and good living into their personal and professional lives. By embracing these principles, individuals can create a positive impact on their communities, drive innovation, and foster a culture of responsibility and respect.

Key Takeaways:

1. Mindset transformation is essential for achieving excellence in personal and professional life.
2. Pioneering spirit involves embracing innovation, creativity, and continuous learning.
3. Good living encompasses compassion, responsibility, and integrity.
4. Diligence is critical for overcoming obstacles and achieving goals.

Resolutions:

1. Incorporate the Canaan Farmers Spirit into educational institutions, emphasizing sustainability and community engagement.
2. Develop cutting-edge mindset through continuous learning, creativity, and innovation.
3. Prioritize ethical living, upholding academic integrity, respect, and professional boundaries.
4. Cultivate diligence through perseverance, persistence, and energetic commitment.

By embracing these principles, we can create a brighter future, where innovation, ethics, and diligence converge to drive positive change.

Unpredictable Days!

I took a ride on still dew covered roads,
 With less wheels in the street.
 It capture the sight;
 A man gathering eternal box onto car prepared to drive.
 Uncertain to whom it belongs,
 A daughter, son, father or mother of someone.
 No mortal remains to determine.
 Yet, obviously under the roof somewhere.
 There will be mourning and weeping
 Over the departed soul.
 Who would have known it will be this early hour.
 Who could have cancelled though in knowledge.
 Time strikes unknown, uninformed.
 Felt grief of their loss;
 Yet, gripped with sense of gratitude.
 For the breath I took, very moment.
 Their image slowly faded over my rear glass.
 But mind tend to replay the memory beyond days.

A sacrifice of love

In the depths of economic hardship
 My sister's selfless sacrifice lit the way
 She gave up her aspirations, for my sake
 Her love and toil paved my path to stay

Tears fell, hearts heavy with pain
 Her sacrifice, my burden to gain
 A weighty responsibility
 To make our parent's hopes sustain

Now she toils, for our family's sake
 While I pursue my dreams at stake
 Their eyes on me, filled with trust
 Her faith in me, aguiding light

With every step, I feel her pain
 With every success, her sacrifice regained
 I'll make my parents proud
 And thank my sister with all my might

A PRAYER FOR LOVE AND HOPE

Today, I watched vows exchanged,
As the pastor spoke of love's sacred bond,
I found myself lost in thought,
Dreaming of the day I stand at that altar,
Wondering who the man beside me might be.

My mother's words echoed in my heart—
"Find a man of God, my child,
Not just a passerby with no faith in his soul."
And I knew, she wasn't wrong,
For a home needs a leader, not just a lover.

I imagined a love as pure as His,
A love like Jesus gives, unselfish and true.
But then, it hit me like a gentle whisper—
Maybe I've been searching too hard, too soon.
Perhaps, it's time to wait on God,
To let Him prepare me, as He prepares him.

Today, I saw glimpses of hope,
In the eyes of men who cherish life,
Who honor their parents, and have God within.
Maybe I had it wrong—
There are still hearts filled with grace.

It takes two to build love,
But three to make it last forever.
So I pray, as I ponder this road I'm on,
For wisdom, for patience, for strength to choose right.
For though I rushed, I still have hope,
That God will guide me to where I belong.

A SANCTUARY OF GROWTH

Within these vibrant halls, my journey began,
Where visionary minds converged, hand in hand.
College days dawned, with hearts full of cheer,
Lessons unfolded, beyond textbooks, year by year.

With "Aspire" as guiding light, I found my way,
Innovative spirits ignited each new day.
Professors inspired, mentors guided me,
Dreams and passions flourished, wild and free.

Campus lawns witnessed laughter, tears and fun,
Friendships forged, memories forever won.
From timid steps to confident strides,
Self-discovery dawned, with each sunrise.

Life's lessons seeped beyond lecture halls,
Resilience, empathy, standing tall.
Through trials and triumphs, I found my voice,
In Aspire's sanctuary, my spirit rejoiced.

Time flees, yet memories remain,
A testament to love, to joy, to pain.
Aspire, a haven of growth, forever aligned,
A sanctuary where hearts entwined.

Life Goes On And On

In the dance of time, we sway and spin,
 Moments fleeting, yet new ones begin.
 Through laughter and tears, we find our way,
 Life whispers softly, "Tomorrow's a new day."

Seasons change, like pages turned
 Lessons learned, and bridges burned,
 In the quiet of night, dreams take their flight,
 While stars above remind us of the light.

Through trials faced and mountains climbed,
 With every heartbeat, we're intertwined
 The sun will rise, though shadows may fall,
 In the tapestry of life, we answer the call.

So cherish the now, let worries be gone
 Embrace every heartbeat, for life goes on and on.
 With each dawn that breaks, a chance to renew,
 In the journey of time, there's always you.

Through the laughter and pain, the joy and the strife,
 We learn to find beauty in the rhythm of life.
 Hand in hand, we'll walk this road,
 Together we carry each other's load.

So when storms may come and skies turn gray,
 Remember, dear friend, it's just part of the play.
 For after the rain, the flowers will bloom,
 In the garden of life, there's always room.

With every new chapter, we write our own song,
 In the symphony of existence, life goes on and on.
 So dance through the moments, let your spirit soar,
 For in the heart of the journey, there's always more.

Homecoming

I wonder how time goes by so fast,
 One moment you're here, the next, it's the past.
 I was once a student, full of fun,
 Laughing with friends, always on the run.

Wearing that uniform, day after day,
 Is one of the things I miss in a way.
 It became a part of who I was,
 Now it's gone, like the time that once was.

Lectures felt longer, patience grew thin,
 But those were the days memories begin.
 What I miss most, above everything,
 Is being a student, like living a dream.

We sat on the last bench, just us three,
 Skipping classes, feeling so free.
 Oh, how we learned to take our time,
 Enjoying life, not worrying about the obstacles.

The rush of exams, with no preparation,
 Studying last-minute, a wild celebration.
 Oh, how I miss those sleepless nights,
 Who knew they'd fill me with such delight?

The three of us promised to meet, stay close like before,
 But life got busy, and plans became lore.
 We drifted apart, though we said we'd stay near.
 Now it's hard to find time to even have a single conversation.

I thought once I graduated, I'd forget,
 But now those moments I can't let go yet.
 Here I am, looking back with a smile,
 Missing those days that passed in a while.

An Ephemeral Longing

*Sorrow whispers to his heart once more,
A shining star, persistent in love's core.
He journeys to her haven, the "Land of Abode,"
Where his lover dwells, and love's flame never grows cold.*

*As he wanders, a past dream reflects,
A faceless beauty in red, his heart quickens yet.
Then, on the seventh of July, twenty twenty-four,
He meets his love, radiant in red, forevermore.*

*To his wonder, his deepest longing takes shape,
Souls entwined, love blooms-a beautiful escape.
In this sweet refuge, sorrow's whisper s fade,
As love's gentle voice is forever displayed.*

*Time shifts, and circumstances test,
Things may end, yet memories bind him best.
He waits, in hope, yearning for her love,
True to her still, as he waits for her.*

- Solus Namu

A brief description of the poem:

A longing heart drives the poet to the "Land of Abode" (a district in Eastern Nagaland), where he meets his beloved on July 7, 2024. A glimpse of a faceless girl in red eerily foreshadows their encounter, and he's stunned to find his love wearing a red dress. United, the poet finds his true home, and love's flame reignites, only to be soon extinguished by time and circumstance. Despite separation, his heart remains enthralled, yearning for her return, suspended in an eternal wait, clinging to hope of rekindling the lost spark.

"Solus Namu" is the pen name of the poet.

MY COLLEGIATE EXPLORATION

Weaving Words

With new found independence came both excitement and challenges as I navigated everything from choosing courses and discovering my interests to managing finances and pursuing my passion. As I reflect on my college journey, I realize that the past years have been a transformative odyssey of self-discovery, growth and empowerment. Finding the right balance between academics, social life, and personal well-being has been one of college's most valuable lessons, teaching me the importance of time management, resilience, and self-care. The internships, research opportunities, and leadership roles I've embraced have provided defining moments that have shaped my future path and helped me uncover strengths I hadn't realized I possessed.

The College has offered a wealth of cherished locations and people, from cozy campus canteen and quiet study nooks to inspiring professors and supportive staff, each adding a unique layer to my experience as a student. My academic journey has pushed me to think critically and creatively, exposing me to new ideas and encouraging problem-solving in ways I hadn't previously imagined. Each course, assignment, and project has deepened my understanding and sparked new intellectual curiosity, thanks to professors who encouraged me to dive deeply into topics I once found daunting. The College has also provided me with invaluable professional experiences through internships and exploring new ideas through extracurricular activities. Each role has allowed me to apply classroom knowledge to real-world settings, build practical skills, and refine my career aspirations.

Looking back, I realize it's often the small, not so quiet moments that mean the most starting from hearty laughs to timely deadlines, challenges of group projects and presentations, late-night study sessions with friends, casual conversations over tea, spontaneous hangouts and so on. These moments are among my most cherished memories. I've forged lifelong friendships in this environment, connecting with like-minded peers in study groups and various social events, creating a strong sense of community and belonging away from home. Indeed, I'm deeply grateful for the experiences that we've shared and the bonds that we've made.

As I near the end of this chapter, I look back with gratitude for the experiences, challenges, and friendships that have shaped me. Each memory feels like a part of a story I am proud to carry forward into the future, armed with the confidence, resilience and commitment to harness my strengths to drive positive changes.

Finally, but importantly, may we all strive to advance, accomplish our goals, and inspire others, regardless of where life directs us, and may our future be filled with bright and infinite possibilities.

BREAKING FREE: GENDER STEREOTYPESWeaving Words*

I imagine a world where individuals can express themselves freely, without judgment or limitation. A world where gender stereotypes don't restrict our potential or define our worth. A world where career choices, hobbies, and personal preferences know no gender boundaries; where colors, interests, and passions are free from societal expectations.

I know firsthand the suffocating grip of societal expectations. As the sole child, responsibility weighed heavily on my shoulders. I was expected to conform to traditional masculine norms – tough, stoic, and unemotional. Growing up, I was drawn to all things glittery and entertaining, but these interests were constantly dismissed as “feminine” and “unmanly.”

As I nurtured my passion for dance, I encountered scepticism from those around me. Their doubt planted seeds of self-doubt, making me question whether dance was a legitimate interest for someone like me. After losing my sister, my family's expectations shifted, and I faced increased pressure to fulfil my responsibilities. This led me to reluctantly choose the science stream, setting aside my true interest in dance and the arts.

The constant reminder to “toughen up and be a man” took a toll on my mental health and relationships. I felt isolated from my peers, unable to express my emotions freely. My sensitivity was seen as weakness, and I was encouraged to suppress it.

The turning point came when I stumbled upon remarkable stories of people defying gender expectations. Their courage and resilience empowered me to challenge societal norms and reclaim my passion for dance, unlocking a newfound sense of purpose and identity.

Nelson Mandela's wise words resonate deeply: “The greatest glory in living lies not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall.” I urge you to challenge norms, defy expectations, and unleash your authentic self – the world needs your unique rhythm. Let Nelson Mandela's words inspire us to rise every time we fall, and let's create a movement of self-expression and empowerment.

WHAT'S MY PURPOSE IN LIFE?

Weaving Words

There's much more meaning in life once you know your purpose. Consider a hammer. It's designed to hit nails. That's what it was created to do. Now imagine that the hammer never gets used. It just sits in the toolbox. The hammer doesn't care. But now imagine that same hammer with a soul, a self-consciousness. Days and days go by with him remaining in the toolbox. He feels funny inside, but he's not sure exactly why. Something is missing, but he doesn't know what it is. Then one day someone pulls him out of the toolbox and uses him to break some branches for the fireplace. The hammer is exhilarated. Being held, being wielded, hitting the branches – the hammer loves it. At the end of the day, though, he is still unfulfilled. Hitting the branches was fun, but it wasn't enough. Something is still missing. In the days that follow, he's used often. He reshapes a hubcap, blasts through some sheetrock, knocks a table leg back into place. Still, he's left unfulfilled. So he longs for more action. He wants to be used as much as possible to knock things around, to break things, to blast things, to dent things. He figures that he just hasn't had enough of these events to satisfy him. More of the same, he believes, is the solution to his lack of fulfillment.

Then one day someone uses him on a nail. Suddenly, the lights come on in his hammer soul. He now understands what he was truly designed for. He was meant to hit nails. All the other things he hit pale in comparison. Now he knows what his hammer soul was searching for all along.

We are created in God's image for relationship with him. Being in that relationship is the only thing that will ultimately satisfy our souls. Until we come to know God, we've had many wonderful experiences, but we haven't hit a nail. We've been used for some noble purposes, but not the one we were ultimately designed for, not the one through which we will find the most fulfillment. Augustine summarized it this way: "You [God] have made us for yourself and our hearts are restless until they find their rest in Thee."

A relationship with God is the only thing that will quench our soul's longing. Jesus Christ said, "I am the bread of life. He who comes to me will never go hungry, and he who believes in me will never be thirsty." Until we come to know God, we are hungry and thirsty in life. We try to "eat" and "drink" all kinds of things to satisfy our hunger and thirst, but yet they remain.

We are like the hammer. We don't realize what will end the emptiness, the lack of fulfillment, in our lives. Even in the midst of a Nazi prison camp, Corri Ten Boom found God to be wholly satisfying: "The foundation of our happiness was that we knew ourselves hidden with Christ in God. We could have faith in God's love ... our Rock who is stronger than the deepest darkness."

Usually when we keep God out, we try to find fulfillment in something other than God, but we can never get enough of that thing. We keep "eating" or "drinking" more and more, erroneously thinking that 'more' is the answer to the problem, yet we are never ultimately satisfied. Our greatest desire is to know God, to have a relationship with God. Why? Because that's how we've been designed. Have you hit a nail yet?
